CBS Website Refresh www.carbenefitsolutions.co.uk

CBS has launched its new updated website www.carbenefitsolutions.co.uk. In addition to providing access to the CBS's latest publications including their Perspective newsletters, the new website contains invaluable information on topical issues facing the motor industry as well as comprehensive information on CBS research projects, solutions, case studies and direct access to our team members.

Commenting on the launch of the new website, Managing Director Martin Maguire says:-

“We're extremely excited about the possibilities of this new website. In addition to providing information on our range of services, the portal affords users the opportunity to interact with our team of specialists on key issues within our chosen market of structured company car alternatives.

Our rapid expansion has necessitated the accelerated development of this facility to enable us to impart knowledge and information through the most effective media available. With its great new look and easy navigation, the new website is unique in containing such a broad range of information and enables user's instant contact with our team.”
